ADDITIONAL QUALIFICATIONS:

Prior to attending law school I taught Sociology and Ethnic Studies at Cabrillo Community College in Santa Cruz, California.

Over the past 13 years of legal services work, I have been an instructor at in-house, statewide, regional and national training events. The topics have ranged from litigation skills to substantive areas such as family law and farm labor law to Federal Indian law and domestic violence laws. These trainings also included teaching less experienced attorneys, paralegals, and tribal court advocates case management skills, interviewing techniques and professional ethics.
